Mayor's Message- Code Enforcement

I would like to thank all those that participated in the Beautify Lehi week. It was a huge success with more volunteers than ever! We had groups doing park and landscape improvements, litter cleanup, graffiti removal and more. I love to see our citizens take pride in the community and want to express my appreciation to those that participated.

I hope that citizens will continue to "Beautify Lehi" throughout the year and improve the look and quality of the community and make Lehi an even better place to live. To help continue the "spirit" of Beautify Lehi week, I'd like to help the community learn more about code enforcement.

I have seen many wonderful improvements in the community; however, I have also been concerned with the number of code violations on private property. These violations can lead to fines and, in extreme cases, foreclosure on your home. They also affect the appearance and safety of our community. So, it is important that you know about the Codes and Ordinances that affect your property.

In 2009, the Lehi City Code Enforcement Department issued 507 violations in the city, citing a variety of community standards, public health and public safety issues. To help you learn more about these issues, we have put together a list of the most common violations that were cited last year and an explanation of the Code or Ordinance that they relate to. (You can also access this list online at www.lehi-ut.gov, or pick up a pamphlet at City Hall, 153 N. 100 E.)

#1: Junk, Trash & Debris. Otherwise known as: All the stuff that belongs in the dump, but never seems to make it there. Lehi City Code states that it is a public nuisance for any owner or occupant to allow the accumulation, abandonment or storage of trash, rubbish or junk on private or public property. These conditions affect public health and result in dangerous and unsanitary conditions.

#2: Inoperable Vehicles. Otherwise known as: Uncle Larry's "classic" truck (motor not included). Lehi City Code states that inoperable vehicles may not be kept in any residential-zoned area. It refers to any vehicle that is in an abandoned, wrecked, dismantled, scrapped, junked or partially-dismantled condition which includes having deflated tires, no wheels, or lacking other parts necessary for the normal operation of the vehicle. Additionally, this includes any vehicle that, because of mechanical defects, a wrecked or partially wrecked frame or dismantled parts, cannot be operated in a normal and safe manner.

#3: Overgrown Conditions. Otherwise known as: When you cannot see Uncle Larry's "classic" truck because the grass is too tall. Refer to violation #2.* Lehi City Code states that grass and weeds higher than 6 inches in height within 25 feet of any property limits or street right-of-way is not allowed.

#4: Improper Use: Commercial Vehicles. Otherwise known as: When your front yard becomes an all-night truck stop. Lehi City Code states that trucks or trailers with the capacity of more than one ton and made by the manufacturer to be used for commercial use are not allowed to be parked on a residential-zoned property.

#5: Fence Violations. Otherwise known as: When your property looks like a fortress because of the barricade around it. Lehi City Code states that fences may not exceed four feet in the "required" front yard, or six feet on the side and rear yard. It must be constructed of materials consistent with the neighborhood and of commonly-used materials (no scrap metal or offensive material). Barbed wire or other material which may inflict pain or injury are not allowed in residential zones.

#6: Window Violations. Otherwise known as: Just because the neighbor's kid broke the window, doesn't mean you don't have to fix it. Lehi City Code states that every habitable room of a dwelling must have sufficient ventilation or at least one window, skylight or glass door facing directly outdoors. Windows must open and close freely and be in good repair and weather-tight.

#7: Vehicles: Improper Storage of Parts. Otherwise known as: Parts that belong on Uncle Larry's "classic" truck laying all around the yard. Refer to violation #2.* Lehi City Code states that automobile, truck, boat or aircraft parts which are stored outside, exposed to the elements, and not otherwise under a roof, are not allowed on a residential-zoned property.

#8: Improper Outside/Open Storage. Otherwise known as: It's time to build a shed if you're going to store that much stuff. Some restrictions may apply.* Lehi City Code states that the storage of materials, supplies, merchandise, equipment and commercial vehicles outside of a building is not allowed in residential-zoned areas.

#9: Sign Violations. Otherwise known as: Uncle Larry's "classic" truck sale and marketing plan. Refer to violation #2. Some restrictions may apply. Lehi City Code defines the design standards and even time limits for the posting of signage, including garage and yard sale, open house, and residential housing signs, as these types of violations can create blight and traffic safety issues. Different requirements are established for both permanent and temporary signs.

#10: Improper Use of Zone. Otherwise known as: A home is not a home when you are operating a business out of it. Some restrictions may apply.* Zoning regulations define the type and location of businesses and housing throughout the city. The major categories of land uses are: commercial, residential, agricultural and mixed-use. Lehi City Code does not allow a use on a property other than what is permitted by its zoning.

#11: Right-of-Way Obstructions. Otherwise known as: Not being able to use the sidewalk because Uncle Larry's "classic" truck is parked in the way. Refer to violation #2.* Lehi City Code does not allow objects to obstruct the full and free use of the public right-of-way, including low-hanging trees and parked vehicles, as these violations pose safety and welfare threats.

#12: Work Without Permits. Otherwise known as: Building Uncle Larry's storage shed to his informal specifications (not a good idea). Refer to violations #2, #7, #8.* Lehi City Code states many property improvements, including accessory structures, decks and pools, require permits to ensure projects are built to meet safety standards and ensure quality development. Permits acquired after construction begins are subject to a fine which doubles the normal permit fee.

More Information About the Code Enforcement Department

The Lehi City Code Enforcement Department enforces the City's Minimum Housing Code, which covers safety and livability requirements in housing. They also oversee the condemnation and demolition of dangerous structures. The department investigates community standard complaints on issues such as inoperable vehicles, rat infestation, trash on lots, and high grass on vacant lots. In addition, they enforce several ordinances and regulations, such as the Graffiti Ordinance. The department's approach links fair enforcement with community outreach and education.

Facts about Lyme DiseaseWhat is Lyme disease?

Lyme disease is an illness caused by a bacteria, Borrelia burgdorferi. These bacteria are spread to humans from the bite of an infected tick. Lyme disease may affect the skin, nervous system, heart, and joints.

Who gets Lyme disease?

Lyme disease is found mostly in the eastern and mid-west regions of the United States. Most people who have Lyme disease in Utah were actually bitten by a tick from another state. Utah does have a tick species that can carry Lyme disease; however, studies done on these ticks in Utah over 20 years ago showed that they were not infected. These studies have not been repeated in recent years, so it is not currently known if there has been an increase in Lyme disease carrying ticks. It does appear that a small number of individuals diagnosed with Lyme disease in recent years may have acquired the disease in Utah. Public health is working with partner agencies to evaluate if changes have occurred in the tick population and/or presence of disease in Utah. It is important to remember that anyone can get Lyme disease, especially campers, hikers, and others who frequent wooded, brushy, and grassy places where ticks are found.

How does Lyme disease spread?

People get Lyme disease from the bite of an infected tick. Usually, the bacteria which causes Lyme disease will only be transferred from an infected tick if it is attached to your skin for at least 24 hours. Persons who do not remove the tick immediately have a higher chance of getting Lyme disease.

What are the symptoms of Lyme disease?

Lyme disease is difficult to recognize because the symptoms mimic those of other diseases. The illness usually starts with a characteristic circular red rash at or near the site of the tick bite. The rash may expand to a large size. Often there may be a clearing in the center of the rash that makes it look like a target. Along with the rash, other "influenza-like" symptoms may appear such as fever, headache, fatigue, stiff neck, muscle, and joint pain. The joints, nervous system, and heart may be affected weeks to months after the initial tick bite. A small number of people with Lyme disease may develop symptoms during later stages of the disease without having had the earlier skin rash. If you suspect that you have Lyme disease, you should see your doctor.

How soon do symptoms usually appear?

The rash or "influenza-like" symptoms usually begin within a month after a tick bite.

What is the treatment for Lyme disease?

Doctors treat patients with Lyme disease with antibiotics. Intravenous medication may be required for more seriously affected persons.

How should a tick be removed?

You should immediately remove any attached tick gently with tweezers. Do not remove ticks with your bare hands! Apply tweezers as close to your skin as possible. Do not crush the tick's body when removing it. Avoid leaving any part of the tick on your skin. Protect your hands with gloves, a cloth or tissue and be sure to wash your hands after removing a tick.

How can Lyme disease be prevented?

Remove attached ticks immediately. Avoid tick infested areas, especially during the months of May, June, and July. Wear light-colored clothing so ticks can be easily seen. Check your body daily for ticks when you spend a lot of time outdoors where ticks can live. Ticks are most often found on the thigh, arms, underarms and legs. Ticks can be very small (no bigger than a pinhead). Look carefully for new "freckles". Use insect repellents containing DEET on your skin or permetherin on clothing. Be sure to follow the manufacturer's label.

Where can I get more information?

Your personal doctor, The Utah County Health Department (801)851-7000, or The Utah Department of Health: Bureau of Epidemiology (801) 538-6191.

FITNESS ETIQUETTE 101

With our fitness classes being highly attended, we try to keep the class sizes to a limited number of participants. This ensures that participants are kept safe and the workout enjoyable. Passes are required for Zumba®, PUMP, Tread and Cycling classes, and are given on a first come, first serve basis. When picking up a pass, please, just one pass, per person, per class. Pass holders agree to participate for at least 45-minutes of the class. Please do not ask to pick a pass up for a friend. During the most crowded classes, please be aware of the space around you; make room for all to participate. Beginners are invited to come to the front of the room, so the instructor can help with form.
